I want to create a website which has my own artworks. I love art and design. I have many pieces of drawings, photographs, and design projects which I'd like to show off on a website. In addition, I will put my contact information and artist statement on the website. People can browse the artwork and read my information as well as sending an email or message to contact me.

I love not only the finished product but the ambiance of the smell of pencils and the sound of sharpening them with a knife and the choosing and blending of colors and materials. The process of turning lines and colors into something beautiful felt magical.
